This is a sampler of our Environmental Crime Thriller Series.

In Case File #1: Target: Alaska!, we meet Juliana Del Rio is an Environmental Engineer working for the EPA. She joins the FBI on special assignment to catch cruise liners in the act of dumping illegal waste into Alaskan waters. Reluctantly teamed with Sean Ryan, a stubborn and chauvinistic FBI ex-narc, who doesn't think environmental assignments are worthy of his skills, she begins one of the most amazing adventures of her career.

In Case file # 2:Target Small Town USA, a train of toxic chemicals is derailed near an area populated by African-Americans, causing a poisonous explosion that kills hundreds of residents. Juliana Del Rio of the EPA and Sean Ryan of the FBI must team up to unearth the culprits.

Great Reviews from major players were obtained when the book first was released.

"I enjoyed both of your books and think that you two have created what could be a marvelous franchise for a film and television property. Sean and Julie are strong characters. With Sean, you have an archetype that fits nicely into the hero's journey. He's a reluctant hero and Julie's younger character, a feisty Latina, spurs him into action. There's nice chemistry between these characters... they would be two meaty film roles." Scott Petri, Hollywood Screen Writer, Disney

"Thank you for for your book " "... reminds us that safeguarding our nation's nuclear facilities from terrorist attacks is a key component of our homeland security" Senator Hillary Rodham Clinton, NY

"All the good stuff is here for a thrilling read. Frighteningly current and pertinent." Book Reader, CA
±"I truly enjoyed the fast pace of this exciting story! The LoPintos drew on their combined experience as chemical engineers, knowing the weaknesses of petrochemical processing and transportation of chemicals. They studied at least six incidents, all believed to be "accidents" but no one knows how they happened..." Ann Thomson, Rocky Ford Daily Gazette, CO

"Authors Charles & Lidia LoPinto tell an exciting story that weaves together the worlds of environmental destruction, blackmail, and politics. "
Thomas Biblewski, Baker Street Dispatch.

"Poised to be the E-Files of the Environment, within the first few paragraphs the reader is caught up in the story's plot." Mason Canyon, Chatooga Press.
