All experiences of life have a lasting effect upon us. Positive experiences attract positive energy, or in other words light. This energy puts one into a mode of living that produces health, happiness, and success.

Negative experiences attract negative energy, or in other words darkness. This energy puts one into a mode of living that produces bad health, depression, self defeating attitudes, and failure. This book will help one understand this phenomena and teach one how to find the darkness, release it, and replace it with light. Thus one can make the transition from darkness to light. --- from book's back cover
