An excerpt from the book:
 The AP US Government & Politics exam will include lots of questions about interest groups. This is because interest groups, while not an institution of government per se, serve a vital role in our democracy. Interest groups inform and influence the legislative process, campaigns and elections, and the way voters perceive issues. As they were about political parties, the Founding Fathers were wary of interest groups—but these groups have an intractable place in American politics, and it is crucial that you understand how they work.

 What Interest Groups Aren't A good way to prepare for questions about interest groups on the AP US Government & Politics exam is to remember what interest groups aren't—they aren't political parties (Democrats or Republicans) and they aren't voting blocs like African-Americans or women.
